USER AGREEMENT FORM

As a user of the Bohdan Medwidsky Ukrainian Folklore Archives (BMUFA), I understand that the requested materials are for research and private study only. If I wish to publish the material, copyright law requires that I obtain permission to do so from the collector. I also understand that BMUFA may reserve the right to restrict access to collections and to copy materials.

I am interested in this kind of material:

I plan to use this material as follows:

I agree to:

- take full responsibility for any use I make of material that I obtain from BMUFA.
- abide by and respect all provincial and federal laws related to intellectual property rights, copyright, and privacy of individuals and to use archival material in a manner consistent with those laws.
- respect restrictions placed on collections by donors and BMUFA, and guidelines governing University of Alberta.
- strive to use these materials in a manner appropriate to the values of the community from which they originated and will therefore ensure that they are not misquoted, mishandled, or misused.
- credit the field researcher who collected these materials, the depositor who donated the collections and, where appropriate, the informant, artist, or creator who has released this information.
- protect the anonymity of the donor, collector, informant, and other individuals involved in collections where anonymity is requested or where materials are sensitive.
- make every effort, where appropriate, to contact informants, collectors/donors, or next of kin for permission to publish or reproduce materials for public dissemination (this includes print, electronic, and audiovisual formats, and applies to museum displays and public performances/interpretations as recognized under copyright guidelines).
- cite the Bohdan Medwidsky Ukrainian Folklore Archives as the source for these materials in all presentations and publications in an appropriate manner.
- provide BMUFA with one copy of any publication I produce that uses materials obtained from the Archives.
- bear all costs for duplication in connection with my request.
